'THE UNIVERSAL BALLANCE.

I BEG Leave to convey, through the Channel of your Paper, an Account of a Machine I have lately invented, which I call the Univerſal Ballance; and which, I doubt not, will be as uſeful in political Philoſophy, as the Common Ballance is in mechanical and natural Philoſophy.

'The common Ballance takes only the abſolute Gravity of a erſon; but this takes the Weight of his Talents, his Merit, Virtues, and his Vices. And, to ſhew the very great Uſe at may be made of it, I ſhall give you a Courſe of Experients, which I have very lately had an Opportunity of making.

'I weighed all the Advantages we have got by the preſent ar with Spain; and I found them juſt as conſiderable, as the eaſures taken were wiſe and vigorous. Then I weighed the dvantages we were likely to gain by a Land War, and found em negative to a very great Degree. I weighed the Affair of rthagena; but every Thing was ſo complicated, that I could ake very little of it: The Admiral's Breeches weighed very avy. I weighed 16000 H——ns againſt 3000 Engliſh; the llance was even. Then I weighed their Pay, and to my great rprize, found the H——n double. Moſt of the Officers eighed rather heavier than they ſhould do. I weighed the romiſes againſt the Services of our Allies the Dutch, and found Sort of Compariſon between the former and latter. Upon eighing the Dutch, I could come to no Certainty for a great hile; 'til at laſt, I put into the oppoſite Scale a Weight which call Prevarication, upon which the Ballance was exactly even: en I put into the ſame Scale another Weight called Honeſty; pon which the Dutch, as I thought they would, kick'd the eam; but upon adding Self-Intereſt to the Dutch Scale, up ent Honeſty higher than Air itſelf. Into one Scale I put Engnd, into the other all the Powers of Europe; upon which I und, that England rather over-ballanced: This Experiment eaſed me much. Then I put Ireland into the Engliſh Scale, xpecting to find a very great additional Weight; but I was deeived, for I think, if there was any Difference, the Engliſh cale was rather lighter than before: Upon which, I added a hole El——te of the Empire; and to my great Surprize found, hat the Engliſh Scale loſt incredibly by the Addition. Then weighed the Faith of Nations in Regard to Treaties, and all he Treaties that have been made for theſe laſt 40 Years, eſpeially thoſe of our late Miniſter; the Quantity of them was ſo reat, that I doubted at firſt, whether or not I ſhould be able get Weights enough for the Experiment; but this Doubt was on over, for I preſently found that I ſhould be troubled to get a Weight light enough for them; 'til at laſt I chanced upon a Bundle of Ruſhes, which I put into the Scale; but the whole Bundle was too heavy; ſo I put a ſingle one in, but that was too heavy: 'til at laſt, I ſplit the Ruſh in two, and then the Ballance was exactly even.

'Juſt before the Death of that worthy old Gentleman Biſhop Hough, I had an Opportunity of weighing all the B——ps: Into the oppoſite Scale I put Tranſlations, Commendams, Options, Procurations, &c. In the Courſe of the Experiment I obſerved ſomething very odd: the Scale play'd up and down, as if ſomebody had been moving it with their Hands: At firſt I wondered at it, but upon ſurveying the Scale, in which were the B——ps, I ſaw old Hough ſtepping in and out, as I thought, for his Diverſion; upon which I walked up to him, made him a very reverend Bow, and told him, that his Merit was ſo well known to all the World, that it was Matter of Curioſity to weigh him, and therefore I deſired he would be pleaſed to ſtep out of the Scale: he complied with the Requeſt, and ſuddenly ſtumbled out; upon which, up flew the Scale of B——ps. After this, I put into one of my Scales four Juſtices of the Peace, two of which were of the Quorum; into the other, 16 jolly Parochial Prieſts, which did not weigh up the Juſtices; then I added 240 Volumes of their Sermons; they did not do; then one of Barrow's Sermons, which increaſed the Weight prodigiouſly; and by the Addition of one Country Curate, the Scales were ſo near an Equilibrium, that a Bottle and a Pipe of Tobacco turned either which you pleaſed. Then I put into one of my Scales 25 Petits Maitres, collected from the Stage and Boxes in Drury-Lane Play-Houſe; 9 of them had been great Travellers, and had ſlept in a Poſt-Chaiſe over moſt Parts of Europe; the other 16 had been bred up under their Mothers; but the Experiment had like to have prov'd fatal to them all; for I having juſt taken a Pinch of Rapee Snuff, unluckily ſneez'd into the oppoſite Scale, which gave them ſuch an unexpected Toſs, that they all came tumbling from the Ceiling down to the Floor; and ſuch a Medley was there of Sighs and ſoft harmonious Groans, ſuch a Confuſion of Toupees, Black Bags, Ramillies, Majors, Spencers, Night-caps, Hats and Feathers, Muffs, Picktooth-Caſes, Tweezers, Snuff-boxes, Patch-boxes, Pill-boxes, Lavender-bottles, &c. that the Chaos was a Fool to it. Then I proceeded to make ſome Experiments upon the S——tors: I weighed all the Aye and No Men together; their Weight was, as to the Number of Pounds, uncertain; Grains three (of Senſe, as I took it), a vaſt Number of Pennyweights, but no Scruples at all.

'Then I weighed the Patriots, particularly a tall thin Man, that you would not think weighed an Ounce; then one who is remarkable for ſpeaking well; another honeſtly; another, whoſe diſtin-distinguished Abilities are not blessed with the best of Constitutions; and I found, as soon as ever they got into the Scale, they fix'd it down as firm as a Rock, so that all the Weights in the World were not sufficient to move them. Then I put into one of my Scales all those Creatures that had been blown up like Bladders, with the Breath of popular Applause; some new L—ds of the A———ty, and a C—mm—ss—n—r or two; into the other I put a certain truly honourable Person, who always stood firm to his Principles, and whose Merit alone has lately raised him to the highest and most profitable Employments; which, to his everlasting Glory be it said, he fills, tho' envied, uncensured; down went the conscious Scale, and had there been a Million more such Creatures in the opposite Scale, he would have overballanced them all: Nay I weighed him against those very Patriots I mentioned, and found the Ballance even; from whence I concluded, that no Party but Merit, was the Standard both of public and private Virtue.

'I waited one Morning on the L—d M——r and C——t of A———n, to desire the Favour of weighing them: One of the most bulky of them told me, that it was not worth my while; that he knew they weighed one with another about 20 Stone a Man, moreover they did not care to be weighed in a Morning fasting, and that I must stay 'til after Dinner. I stayed, and had the Pleasure of weighing them, and found, that a Flea weighed about 12 Times as much as their Brains. Then I weighed in my Ballance 999 Women, and they were all found wanting; except one, and her I found dead in the Scale. Then I weighed this Paper against myself, and the Ballance was even. Then I weighed myself; and found to my Sorrow, that I weighed just nothing at all. Yours, &c.'

'TURKEY.

'FREQUENT Commotions happen at Constantinople, 'among the Populace and Janizaries; and even the Divan is divided into Parties, of which one is for carrying on a 'vigorous War against the Persians; and the other, headed by 'Bashaw Osmin, formerly Count Bonneval, for turning the 'arms of the Porte against the Christians; but the former has 'hitherto prevailed.

'RUSSIA.

'The Austrians give out, that the Empress will accede to the 'quadruple Alliance concluded at Warsaw, and in Pursuance 'thereof, had given Orders for the March of 35000 of her 'Troops for Germany; but others say, however that Alliance 'may turn out, these Troops will not stir without English Money.

'DENMARK and SWEDEN.

'We have nothing of Importance from Denmark; but we are 'informed from Hamburg that great Remittances are made to 'Sweden, where they are very busy in building of Ships, for 'the Service of the House of Bourbon.

'SPAIN.

'The Queen takes all possible Measures for prosecuting the 'grand Design of procuring a Kingdom for the Infant Philip, 'to be formed out of the States of Parma and Placentia, and 'some other Territories in Lombardy; for that End is this 'Country continually exhausted both of Men and Money, and 'the People pressed into the Service with a Violence unknown 'in former Reigns. —— The Ships lately arrived under Count 'Torres have not brought, it seems, above a 5th Part of the 'Treasure reposited at the Havannah, and consequently not e'nough to satisfy the Cravings of the Court. The Arrival however 'of these rich Ships so opportunely, was so acceptable to the 'Court, that M. Torres for his good Service had a Title of 'Castile conferred on him, with Liberty to chuse either Count 'or Marquis.

'ITALY.

'Count Gages who it was expected would have entered Tu'cany, has received Orders to march another Way. The Ge'noese, who were supposed to arm in favour of the Spani'Pretensions, are afresh embarrassed by an Insurrection of t'Corsicans. The Spaniards having been obliged to retire fro'Onegglia, for want of Provisions, were attacked, and gr'Numbers killed by the Militia.

'GERMANY.

'Several Actions happened this Month between the two co'tending Parties, mostly to the Disadvantage of the Austrian'particularly near Ingolstadt, where the Garrison under Co'Berenclau attempting to dislodge the French from some Po'near that Place, were repulsed with the Loss of 500 Men, a'eight Field-Pieces. In Silesia also, where they had possess'themselves of the Town of Ratibor with 3000 Men, they we'attacked by the Prussians, who killed and made Prisoners (e'cept what were drowned) the whole Garrison. In the Coun'of Glatz the Prussians pretend to have gained a considerab'Advantage, &c. [See, Maryland Gazette, Numb. 6.] —O'the other hand the French and Bavarians have quitted Au'berg, so that the Queen of Hungary is in Possession of all t'Upper Palatinate.

'The young Elector of Bavaria has declined the Title of Ki'of Bohemia, but taken that of Archduke of Austria; tho' 'said, only in common with the Descendants of that House, a'cording to the Custom of Germany. As to his future Conduc'some pretend, that as the Court of Vienna is not inclined t'grant him any thing, nor so much as to put him in Possessi'of his hereditary Dominions, 'till the Conclusion of a defi'tive Treaty: and as the Bavarian Ministers find the Sweets o'French Subsidies, his Highness will adhere to the Treaty o'Francfort. Besides it is scarce in this Elector's Power, howe'ver willing, to make a Peace, as the French have 25000 Me'in or near his Dominions; and talk high of their immens'Charges in supporting his Father, and that they ought to kee'the Places which they have subdued under colour of the Im'Emperor's Title. It seems probable therefore, that this Prince'waits an Opportunity to extricate himself from these Difficul'ties; mean while the French King, under the Title of a Gua'rantee, promises to protect the Germanic Body. But 'tis cer'tain, that most of the Princes are really tired of such Protec'tion, and are said to be forming a neutral Army of 60000 'Men, to clear the Empire of foreign Troops. —— The 'French Forces on the lower Rhine are retiring before the Duke'of Aremberg, who is advanced into the Duchies of Berg an'Juliers, where he raises heavy Contributions, notwithstanding'the Remonstrances of their Sovereign the Elector Palatine.

'FRANCE.

'The King designs to command his Army in Flanders, which'is to consist of 120000 Men, with a Train of 150 Pieces o'battering Cannon, and 60 Mortars: Marshal Count Saxe is to'command immediately under his Majesty. The Ministry are'taken up in finding the necessary Sums, and 30 Millions of Li'vres are demanded of the Clergy, besides a great Sum of the'India-Company, which must distress that Trade.

'Whether his most Christian Majesty is desirous to shew a'Disposition to cultivate a good Understanding with the Queen'of Hungary, or affects to appear a candid and generous Enemy,'he has expresly ordered his principal Engraver to publish a'beautiful Print of her Majesty, with the following Verse'under it;

'Fœmina fronte patet, vir pectore, diva decore.

'which may be thus reduced in English,

'Bright female Beauty in her Face is seen,
'Manly her Courage, and divine her Mien.

'HO

HOLLAND.

The States General have held frequent Councils since the arrival of the Earl of Chesterfield, the Result of which is kept secret, tho' of such Importance as to put Mr. Trevor upon repairing to London and back again with more than common Haste, as if he went for Instructions to put the last Hand to the great Affair. Whatever it be, the Austrian Party seems elated, and the French as much discontented, at whose Menaces the Dutch seem no way intimidated; but go on to augment their Garrisons, and raise new Forces; and tho' they cannot yet be prevailed on by any Inducement to declare War against France, are providing to act with Vigour for the Defence of their Allies and Frontiers.

'Some insinuate that his Britannic Majesty has agreed to assign over to their High Mightinesses, his Pretensions to the Principality of East-Friesland, which is claimed by the King of Prussia, on consideration of some important Services which they are inclined to render to the common Cause, but to which, it seems, they must be hired.'

LONDON, Feb. 7.

At a Court-Martial held on board his Majesty's Ship Lenox, Portsmouth-Harbour the 31st of January, 1744-5.

PRESENT,

JAMES STEUART, Esq; Vice-Admiral of the Red,
HENRY MEDLEY, Esq; Rear-Admiral of the White.

Capt. John Loo,	Hon. Fitzroy Henry Lee,
Hon. Edward Boscawen,	Capt. Peter Lawrence,
Capt. Henry Harrison,	Capt. Solomon Gideon,
Capt. Harry Norris,	Capt. Thomas Broderick,
Capt. Francis Geary,	Capt. William Fielding,
Capt. Edward Prattin,	Capt. William Boys,
Capt. Edward Spragg,	Capt. John Hardy,
Capt. Patrick O Hara,

Being all duly sworn,

the Court proceeded to enquire into the Conduct of Capt. Mostyn, Commander of his Majesty's Ship the Hampton-Court, for not engaging two French Men of War, which he fell in with in his late Cruize; as also into the Conduct of Capt. Griffin, of the Captain; Capt. Brett, of the Sunderland; and Capt. Fowkes, who commanded the Dreadnought; during their late Cruize, they being present in the said Chace; and how the said French Ships came to escape: And after a thorough Examination of the Evidences produced by the said Captains, and inspecting into the Log-Books of their respective Ships, were unanimously of Opinion, that Capt. Mostyn did his Duty as an experienced and good Officer, and as a Man of Courage and Conduct: That as Capt. Griffin, and all his Officers, judged the two Ships which the Hampton-Court and Dreadnought were in chace of, to be Merchant-Ships, Capt. Griffin is justified in bearing after the Ship he took, the Captain being the Leewardmost Ship of the four: And that Capt. Brett and Capt. Fowkes did their Duty in every Respect. To which both the Admirals, and every Commander above-mention'd sign'd their Names.

The Lords of the Admiralty have ordered the Namure and Somerset Men of War, both lately arrived from the Streights, to be repaired forthwith for Sea-Service.

Feb. 14. According to the last Letters from Ratisbon, the Austrians have made themselves Masters of Donawert, one of the most considerable Fortresses belonging to the young Elector; but whether by Surprize, Storm, or Capitulation, is not related.

From Genoa, that the Government is every Day more and more embarrassed by the unlucky Accidents that happen. The Corsicans have made themselves Masters of the Post of St. Pelerino, where they cut off the Head of the Officer of Justice, and sent it in a Sack to the Commissary Signior Justiniani. The Piedmontese are making great Preparations to impede the Progress of the Spanish Arms: And the Minister of the Court of Turin, Resident there, has given them to understand, that it will not be long before his Master will be in a Condition to oblige them to declare themselves, as to the Part they intend to take in the present Disputes in Italy.

Private Letters from Bonn advise, that a French Party of 900 Men had formed a Design to seize upon the Duke of Aremberg, in the Neighbourhood of Bachum, which would certainly have been put in Execution, if they had not been discovered by a Detachment of 500 Hussars; which the French no sooner perceived, than they retired with Precipitation, notwithstanding their great Superiority.

There is Advice that Admiral Rowley has taken five French Merchant Ships off the Island of Hieres, bound from the Coast of Barbary to Marseilles.

The Cæsar Privateer, Capt. North, of Cowes, of 18 Carriage-Guns and 120 Men, is taken by the great Turk Privateer, and carried into St. Malo's.

The James-River of 200 Tons, from Bristol for Virginia, and the Betsey, ———, for Barbadoes, are likewise taken by the said Privateer.

The John Galley, Watts, and the Johanna, both from Boston for London; and the Hanover, Churchman, from Bristol for Virginia; are taken by the John Joseph Privateer, of St. Malo's, and carried into Brest.

Feb. 19. We are well assured, notwithstanding all the Accounts that have been, and in all Probability will be inserted in the News-Papers, relating to the late Action between the Prussians and Austrians in the County of Glatz, wherein the latter were forced to give Way, they being no more than 1200, and the Prussians upwards of 6000 Men; that the whole Loss of the Austrians, including Prisoners and Deserters, did not amount to 250 Men.

The Fleet fitting out at Portsmouth, consists of 28 Men of War, 18 of which are of the Line, 6 of 40 Guns, and 4 of 20, 3 Bomb Vessels, and a Fire-ship; which is reckon'd the largest Fleet fitted out since the Commencement of the War, and it is said, will be commanded by Admiral Vernon.

The Princess of Orange is declared to be with Child.

The General Assembly of the Clergy of France was opened on the 13th Instant, N. S. when they were informed, on the part of his most Christian Majesty, that he expected from them a free Gift of 30 Millions.

Feb. 23. The Elector Palatine, the Landgrave of Hesse, and other German Princes, who were sollicited to lend their Troops to France on any Terms, to enable M. Maillebois to keep his Ground in Germany, absolutely refus'd it.

The General Diet of the Helvetic Body, have written very respectfully to the Queen of Hungary, assuring her of their sincere Resolution to observe, with the utmost Punctuality, their Engagements with the House of Austria.

Edinburgh, Feb. 19. The Mails due are arrived, and breath nothing but a new Scene of Desolation and Slaughter. The Court of Munich is so far from having abandoned the late Emperor's System, that it has procured the Continuance of the Hessian and Palatine Auxiliaries, which were before said to be countermanded. There has been a Massacre of the Inhabitants of Troppaw, in Austrian Silesia, upon Return of the Prussians, because those poor People were so weak as to fire upon them, in their late Retreat.

Newcastle, Feb. 2. On Wednesday last, a Brig, belonging to this Place, laden with Goods, was attacked off Hartlepoole, by a French Privateer, to whom she had speedily fallen a Sacrifice; had not the George, Cuthbert Ranian, Master, who saw the Engagement, borne down upon the Privateer, fired a Broadside, and obliged her to steer off. N. B. There was a Man

Man of War in Hartlepoole Road, whoſe Captain was content with the Pleaſure of ſeeing this gallant Behaviour of the Maſter of a Collier.

Dublin, Feb. 19. We have the following Extract of a Letter from Erris, the moſt weſterly Part of Ireland, dated February 7; viz. "There was a huge Lake in this Place, which was computed to be about three Miles in Circumference, invironed with Sand-hills; it had no Communication either with Sea or River, and was diſtant, I believe, a Quarter of a Mile from the Sea. This Lake breaking a Paſſage through the ſaid Sand-hills, in a moſt ſurprizing Manner diſembogued itſelf into the Sea, in the Space of one Night's Time; and I do affirm it to you for Truth, that the Paſſage it made to the Sea is inexpreſſible: There were abundance of Eels found by the Populace, which was a great Relief to the indigent People here. The Place where this happened, is called Croſs. What was formerly the Lake is now a perfect Strand; and I have rid upon it ſeveral Times ſince. It happened on the 1ſt Day of this Month.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.

There is Advice from Gibraltar, that a great Number of Sea-Officers are gone home from Port-Mahon, in the Newcaſtle Man of War, under Cuſtody of a Meſſenger; a vigorous Proſecution being on Foot in England againſt Leſtock and others, ſaid to have failed in their Duty at the Toulon Fight.

ANNAPOLIS.

The General Aſſembly of this Province, which ſtood prorogued to the 2d of July, is further prorogued to Tueſday the 3d Day of September next.

A Gentleman of undoubted Veracity juſt arrived from New-York, brings the agreeable News of the taking of Louiſburg, an Account whereof was ſent by an Expreſs diſpatched from Governor Shirley to Governor Clinton: And that while he was at Philadelphia, it was further confirmed by a Veſſel arrived there from thoſe Parts. In our next we hope to give the Public an Account of the Particulars.

Laſt Week at Talbot County-Court, a Negro-Man was ſentenced to have his right Hand cut off, to be hang'd, and then quarter'd; for the Murder of his Overſeer, by ſtabbing him a few Days before with a Knife.

Mr. GREEN,

Be pleaſed to favour the incloſed Lines with a Place in your Maryland Gazette, and oblige your very humble Servant, ——

To the LADIES of MARYLAND.

WOULD you, my Fair, triumphant lead along
Of ſighing, paſſive Slaves, a ſhining Throng?
Say, would you learn the happy pleaſing Art
To charm, and to ſecure the captive Heart?
The Muſe thro' all her various Maze purſue,
Her Theme is Beauty, and ſhe ſings to you.
SHUN Affectation in your Air and Dreſs;
The clipt, liſpt Accent, and the prim ſet Face:
Eaſy each Motion, natural and free,
Not pinch'd with cramp, ſtrait-laced Formality:
Bid Grace and Dignity from conſcious Worth,
From Virtue, and fair Honour's Spring, beam forth.
Let not your Cheek the painted Falſhood know,
But flame with the pure native Crimſon's Glow,
Whoſe Tincture does from modeſt Merit flow:
A native Grace ſhall more attractive prove
Than all th' Auxiliaries of Art, to move.
Affect to pleaſe the Men of Senſe alone,
And ſcorn the Foppling Flutters of the Town;
A Freedom diſengaged, and careleſs Eaſe,
Shall the unwary Heart, unalming, ſeize:
(Love's richeſt Gift) an eaſy, graceful Smile,
Pow'rful to charm, proves an alluring Wile;
On which hid Darts ſhall certain Conqueſts wait,
While yielding Slaves to you reſign their Fate.
Fly Books; they'll turn your Head, and ſpoil your Charms;
Philoſophy your ev'ry Grace diſarms;
Yet deign to make the lighter Muſe your Care,
'Twill form the Wit, and give the Debonnair:
Mix'd with the ſocial Choir, the Dance now grace;
And artful moving, ſwim the myſtic Maze:
Or with the full join'd Concert tuneful ſing,
Or wake, with ſkilful Touch, the ſpeaking String.
The Parent of the Graces, Smiles and Loves,
Thoſe gay, thoſe Heart-enſnaring Lures approves.
Thoſe fav'rite Arts her Empire's Power ſuſtain,
Thoſe fav'rite Arts her Cupids ſtill maintain.
Be neat, not nice; be rather clean than fine;
And let plain Elegance around you ſhine.
Of Novel Vanities th' Expences ſhun,
Nor through the Lab'rinths of the Faſhion run:
To pleaſe the more, be careleſs ſtill to pleaſe;
So ſhall you charm with more becoming Eaſe,
With fairer Grace neglected Beauties glow,
And Charms, the leſs adorn'd, more lovely ſhow.

Your very humble Servant and Admirer, JUBA.
